SPECIAL REMARKS (General Remarks to be on separate sheet):—

This is a small section but the trustees and rate payers exhibit a liberal and progressive spirit both in securing the services of a well qualified teacher and in providing things requisite for the school. The land surrounding the school house is occupied by the buildings, so that it is difficult to enlarge the site.

SPECIAL REMARKS (General Remarks to be on separate sheet):—

This is a large section and the school was formerly more flourishing than at present. The decline is owing to the employment of cheap teachers under the plea of economy. The house is about large enough but poorly furnished. The site is too small.

SPECIAL REMARKS (General Remarks to be on separate sheet):—

This school has not progressed as well as it promised two years ago. The trustees have made a poor selection of teachers, and the natural consequence a backward school has resulted. The trustees committed another error in erecting a small school house. The house was in process of erection when the new law came into force.

SPECIAL REMARKS (General Remarks to be on separate sheet):—

The population of this section is almost exclusively French. They have had an English school for some years, with unsatisfactory results and they now desire a French school. They did not succeed in getting a suitable teacher, for which reason the school has been idle the last six months.

SPECIAL REMARKS (General Remarks to be on separate sheet):—

This section, previously weak, has been rendered more so by the establishment of a separate school within the town of Cornwall to which it is adjacent. The number of pupils is very small, and the trustees did not consider it worth while to engage a teacher.
